

More Than Flesh and Bone

By: George Zivan

Great words and melodies can pierce the soul,
Where nothing else will go, even the heart of stone;
They can tame a beast, and feed a hungry spirit,
Man truly does not live by bread alone!

Great words and melodies can change the world,
They can inspire us to achieve beyond what is known;
They can be the difference between war and peace,
They can launch a thousand ships, or bring them home!

Great words and melodies can live forever,
Long after what man builds of steel and stone;
They can open worlds beyond our wildest dreams,
For we are so much more than flesh and bone!
